Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the specification makes reference to specific claims which is inappropriate.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claims 4-29 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim may not depend on another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 is unclear as to the scope of the claim, specifically with its broad reference of a relative limitation with no particular indication as to what defines the limitation. That is, it is not clear what is an acceptable number of interference centers, and what constitutes a "reduced" number of interference centers.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cunningham et al ('671).

Cunningham et al discloses an electrode with a rounded tip. As asserted previously, it is impossible to determine what constitutes a "reduced number of electrical interference centers". The Cunningham et al electrode will inherently have a "reduced" number of such centers compared to at least other electrode known in the art. It is noted that the limitation of claim 3 is directed to a product by process, and weight is not given to the process of making the product (see MPEP 2113). Further, the Cunningham et al electrode is subjected to various electrolytes (e.g. saline and blood).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 3739

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 2 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 2 of copending Application No. 10/049,932. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the specifically treated surface of the '932 application claims is a more specific embodiment of the instant application claims and deemed to be an obvious means for arriving at the reduced number of interference centers as set forth in the instant application claims.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Swanson et al, Jackman et al and Lontine et al all disclose various rounded, polished or coated electrodes. Applicant's specification alludes that these are all potential means for reducing electrical interference centers.
